Scott

As I said on the phone a couple minutes ago, after consulting with my client, we will agree not to make any transfer of the servers to Megaupload without giving you prior notice so that you can seek judicial relief if you deem it necessary. In return, I appreciate that you have committed to seeking from your client a reciprocal assurance that you will not seek judicial relief tomorrow and that you give us prior notice before filing any type of action relating to the servers at any point in time. Finally, I also appreciate that you have committed to informing us whether your client would support a disposition of the servers that resulted in them being placed, unpowered, in a storage facility controlled by Carpathia

I look forward to hearing from you soon.
